This conference is for our mainstream colleagues who want to find out more about how to support your SEMH learners, including increasing understanding of SEMH needs and associated barriers to learning. There will be opportunities to learn about specific approaches, techniques and interventions that can be implemented in classrooms and across school. Workshops will be delivered by a range of specialists currently working in the field.

A range of workshops will be included in the event:

- Regulation Techniques
- Raising standards in the classroom through technology
- Relational Practice
- Behaviour Analysis: Using the Neurosequential Model
- Somatic Experiencing, Psychotherapy, Yoga and Mindfulness
- Nurture Principles in the classroom
- Trauma awareness and action planning
- Sensory Interventions
- First aid for mental health
- Therapeutic Interventions
- Responding to the challenge of school exclusion

We hope delegates get key effective take-homes that can be implemented when back in school with SEMH learners
